

Spectral Irradiance inside the chamber in comparison to a solar spectrum

Difference between calculated and measured light intensity is mainly due to light absorption on the chamber walls.

