

Subsurface oceanic structure associated with atmospheric convectively coupled equatorial Kelvin waves in the eastern Indian Ocean

Marina Azaneu¹, Adrian Matthews¹, and Dariusz Baranowski²

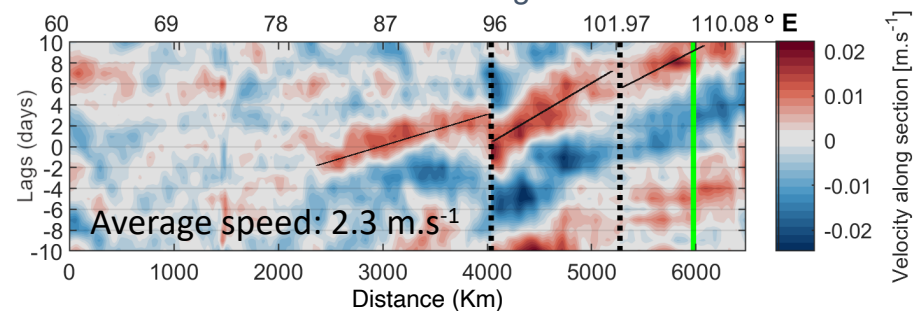

¹University of East Anglia, UK

²Institute of Geophysics Polish Academy of Sciences, Poland

Daily composite anomalies (2.5°N-2.5°S, 90°E-95°E)

Hovmöller diagram

Ref.: Azaneu, M., Matthews, A., and Baranowski, D.: Subsurface oceanic structure associated with atmospheric convectively coupled equatorial Kelvin waves in the eastern Indian Ocean. (2021) JGR-Oceans, in rev. (m.azaneu@uea.ac.uk)

