

QUARTETnary

The card game about the geological time scale

Iris van Zelst¹, Lucía Perez-Díaz²

¹German Aerospace Center (DLR), Institute of Planetary Research, Germany

²Halliburton, Abingdon, United Kingdom

Time periods

Quarternary

Neogene

Paleogene

Cretaceous

Jurassic

Triassic

Permian

Carboniferous

Devonian

Silurian

Ordovician

Cambrian

Proterozoic

Archean

Hadean

Quartet!

Card design

Card design

- Visual indicators on card numbers

Card design

- Visual indicators on card numbers
- Colours according to the International Commission on Stratigraphy

Card design

- Visual indicators on card numbers
- Colours according to the International Commission on Stratigraphy
- Domino solo-mode

Card design

- Visual indicators on card numbers
- Colours according to the International Commission on Stratigraphy
- Domino solo-mode

Card design

- Visual indicators on card numbers
- Colours according to the International Commission on Stratigraphy
- Domino solo-mode

Card design

- Visual indicators on card numbers
- Colours according to the International Commission on Stratigraphy
- Domino solo-mode

QUARTETnary

QUARTETnary is on its way.

EGU's Public Engagement Grant Winner 2021

QUARTETnary is an educational card game about the geological time scale playable by anyone from 9 to 90.

Discover the most important events in Earth's history by collecting geological eons, eras, and periods to complete your own time line of the history of the Earth.

Will you come out as the winner with the most complete time scale?

www.quartetnary.com

@QUARTETnary