

REminding Slovenian
authorities Climate Change
Crisis requires Urgent Effort

Žiga Zaplotnik

(University of Ljubljana)

Lina Boljka

(University of Bergen)

Nina Črnivec

(Columbia University)

Aljoša Slameršak

(Autonomous University of Barcelona)

Since 2019

About the project

SCREEN CAPTURE
WELCOME

Who?

- 4 young Slovenian scientists scattered across the globe

Why?

- Slovenian climate change strategy was ranked amongst the worst in EU
- Absence of Slovenian experts in decision-making

How it started?

- We sent an open letter to the government – signed by 100+ Slovenian scientists in relevant fields
 - Large media coverage
 - Positive response from the government

How it continued?

- Interactions with media on various extreme events, on climate policies in Slovenia
- Interactions with politicians
- Further letters with suggestions & comments to the government
- Seminars for schools & general public to raise awareness of climate change

REminding Slovenian
authorities Climate Change
Crisis requires Urgent Effort

Žiga Zaplotnik

(University of Ljubljana)

Lina Boljka

(University of Bergen)

Nina Črnivec

(Columbia University)

Aljoša Slameršak

(Autonomous University of Barcelona)

Since 2019

Where are we now?

SCREEN CAPTURE
WELCOME

Podnebnik

- We were invited to collaborate with the Slovenian Covid19 tracker (Sledilnik) to form a climate change tracker PODNEBNIK
- A much wider group of experts involved
- An online platform for informing general public/politicians about the climate change in Slovenia and worldwide

Continued pressure on decision makers

- Absolutely crucial to continue reminding the decision makers that action is needed now (not just words)
 - Consistent with the latest IPCC report

But - worldwide effort needed

- We encourage climate scientists from around the globe to become more engaged in communicating science & in reminding politicians that action (not words) is needed [not easy, but we can learn!]
- Afterall – this is a global crisis

THANK YOU